

ITS WORK IS NOBLE

Emerson Industrial Home Society's Annual

REPORTS OF THE OFFICERS

City Missionary Appointed to Visit the Homes of the Wayward. Officers Elected.

The first annual meeting of the Emerson Industrial Home society was held yesterday. Officers were elected, and the annual report of the officers read. It was decided to appoint a city missionary to visit the respectable homes of the city, and by personal solicitation induce the wayward girls to leave their life of shame for an honorable existence in the home. The objects of the home are the reformation of fallen women, and it is the sentiment of the society that better and more profitable results can be obtained if the girls are visited and made to appreciate the comforts which the home offers.

President's Report.

The annual report of the president, Mrs. W. J. Perkins, is as follows: At the termination of this, our fiscal year, the president deems it proper to submit a brief annual report of work accomplished, and some suggestions for work during the coming year.

The secretary has carefully compiled a statistical and financial report, which contains interesting and instructive information, but there are other features of our work which appear somewhat foreign to the scope of her report, but which it is desirable to notice.

The object of this philanthropic institution is to rescue, elevate and sustain our unfortunate sisters on a plane of true womanhood, which shall guarantee their respectability here in our midst, and warrant our expectation of meeting them in the great realm of the hereafter; in this shall lie our reward, and for this purpose have we by our constitution agreed to contribute our time and labor to the cause.

In retrospect, your attention is called to our former home with its unwholesome surroundings and its evil associations of the past, unfitted for the moral improvement of the souls that providence has cast in our path to befriend; and the beautiful and beneficial influence that in itself is exerted by our present home and attendant comforts.

Our financial strength, while of secondary importance to the aims of the home, is yet worthy of attention. Our treasurer has given you a detailed report of our finances, which shows that we are neither strangled nor overburdened with cash; we are out of debt, have good credit, and trust in providence while incidentally relying on the further generosity of the kind friends who have heretofore liberally donated out of their purse for our cause.

Our present prosperous condition, coupled with a continuance of fidelity from you all, can but assure a glorious future to us.

The religious services of the past, for which we are so deeply indebted to the clergy, have, we believe, proved of benefit to the recipients of our care. Its influence is not lost on the daily life of future history of those within our gates; it is but meet to do God's holy work that God's aid should be invoked, therefore let us be constant in their attendance and support of the Sunday services, and let not him who has faith that a mother's prayers influence a child's career turn aside with doubt that the seed sown shall all perish. We may express to the clergy our thanks for the willingness to be constant in responding to our weekly call for their services; also the loving friends whose sweet voices blended in union sounded the dear Master's praises, but to him alone must they look for their reward. In line with their effort, and supplementing our endeavor, would be the employment of a city missionary whose sole duty shall be to fill our home with those who are lost to the highest and holiest purpose of womanhood, and who are in need of our aid, counsel and charity.

We have our institution's foundation well established; let us add to it by filling our home to overflowing. No anxiety for the means for our sustenance should restrict our efforts, as they will be provided for as needs require. Let us move onward, therefore, without wavering in our faith that Providence will care for us.

None may doubt but many hearts at the present time are yearning for our protection, but circumstances surrounding them, which only may be removed through our direct intervention, restrain them from accepting our hospitality. Will you not attention, the employment of such a medium as shall secure the results for which we all hope and pray?

Ask yourself if every judicious effort is being put forth to reclaim the wandering souls, and who would, if our hands were extended in entreaty, grasp them and come with joy into the light.

Report of the Secretary.

Mrs. Emma Kleinhaus, the secretary, read an interesting report concerning the work of the home during the past year. It is as follows:

The Emerson Industrial Home association, as an outgrowth from the Emerson home, was incorporated at the home on Wednesday, August 6, 1902, so this is the first annual report of the new association. A board of trustees consisting of nine members were elected, three retiring each year. The following officers were elected for the year: President, Mrs. W. J. Perkins; vice president, Mrs. King; secretary, Mrs. Granby; treasurer, Mrs. J. Kleinhaus.

One of the very important questions which faced the new board at the beginning of the year was the question of location. And as necessary is the matter of location, one of our earnest workers, Mr. Leomin, set himself to devise some scheme by which the difficulty might be met. It proved acceptable to the board and was adopted, but like all schemes for that purpose, meant earnest work and hard work by some one, and as usual, fell to the ladies to carry out. How well they have done their work, their testimonies know and the treasurer's report will show. Had they all worked as faithfully as our president, I think the result would have been very different. Another fact very patent to the trustees was that our present home with its surroundings was no longer the proper location for the work the association wanted to do. So a committee was appointed to look for another home and was fortunate to find one, present being on the corner of Jefferson, Avenue and LaBelle street. The last of September, 1902, we moved to our present new home. After getting settled we found ourselves very comfortable and it was decided to have a very comfortable one day and invite the public and our friends in to inspect our home and its work. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for a house warming, which was held October 18, 1902.

The regular monthly meetings of the association have been held at the home the first Tuesday of each month. But owing to its being an inconvenient hour for the new, the meetings of the trustees have been held at the residence of Mrs. J. Kleinhaus, Saturday evening after the first Tuesday of the month. There has been nine regular meetings and five adjourned or special meetings, owing to a lack of a quorum at the regular meetings. As the regular board meetings come but once a month, it is very necessary that all the members should be present at every meeting.

Good That Has Been Done.

The board has met with a great loss by the resignation of one of its most active and faithful members, Mrs. Andrews. Other cares and duties necessitated her leaving us. But she had so long been a faithful and efficient worker that it was with a great deal of reluctance her resignation was accepted. And now, at the close of our first year's work, we are again called upon to accept the resignation of another earnest worker in the cause. Mr. Raymond has felt it necessary, owing to more pressing duties, to resign from our board as an active member. While we are ever ready to welcome more workers, and can so acceptably fill their places, we shall miss their ready counsel and presence at our meetings.

At the time the society incorporated there were inmates in the home, 4; admitted since, 27; total, 31. Births, 12. Departed during the time, adults—20; friends, 8; self supporting, 9; to other institutions, 2; left without leave and did not return, 4; sent out of town by superintendent county poor, 1; died, 1. Infants—Admitted, 1; taken care of by the mother, 1; died, 3. Ages of inmates—18 years and under, 17; 20 years and under, 4; over 20 years, 5; the youngest was 14 years, and the oldest 41 years.

Religious services have been held at the home every Sunday afternoon, conducted by the clergymen of the city. Thursday afternoon of each week some ladies in the south part of the city have held bible readings and prayer meetings. At present Mrs. Marie Hopkins has the meetings in charge. Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Folland has conducted a Sunday school. Thus you will see we have tried to care for the spiritual as well as the temporal welfare of the inmates of the home. "Let us not be weary in well doing" and we shall reap if we faint not.
